5. Discussion Item #1 (Special Topic): Transforming Partnerships – San Diego Super Region and SDWP

- Aligning Workforce Development and the Adult Education in the region
Currently working on plan revisions, funding more robust evaluation. Super region participants emphasized the adult ed. (especially at K-12 adult schools) is an under-researched area.
Sarah Burns, SDWP Director of Research, presented updates to the regional plan – see appendix – participants commented positively on the intention to create more nuanced tools for programs and career development and reiterated the need to use the concept of “sustainable wage” rather cautiously. Kathleen Porter stressed the need to look at sectors and businesses that have entry and middle skills jobs (i.e., have growth in all areas). Robyn Wiggins cautioned that we also need to include students who are not eligible for WIOA funding. Sarah pointed to “income sharing agreements” as a possible option. (What would make students to buy into this model?)
All materials shared during the presentation can be found here:
<https://workforce.org/wp-content/uploads/2019/01/Community-Forum-PP.pdf> - and more generally here: <https://workforce.org/SBR/>
- Career Coach – San Diego and Imperial County-based career paths that match adult learners’ needs and interests: Tool is available to all at:
<https://workforce.emsicc.com/?radius=®ion=Southern%20Border%20Region>. Participants emphasized the need to include adult ed. data (especially those that come from K-12 adult schools). The super region might look into supplying information to SDWP directly. Kathleen Porter also shared that Poway Adult submitted all their CIP codes.

6. Next meetings

- February 12, 2019: Strong Workforce HS mapping project and CAEP (Molly Smith); location TBD
- March 12, 2019: topic/location TBD
- April 9, 2019: topic/location TBD
- May 14, 2019: topic/location TBD

Super region meeting adjourned at 2:55 pm.

7. A meeting for the super region curriculum and special stakeholder sub-committees followed.
- Curriculum sub-committee: Crystal Robinson will take the lead; Ute Maschke will take co-lead, in organizing a workshop for second or third week of September. We might consider bringing in WestEd as a consultant. During that workshop, we will most likely
 - Do a curriculum/course walk-through to share best practices and concerns, and catalogue similarities and differences.
 - Consider which learners are not at the table (yet).
 - Review how we already work with Adult Ed College and Career Readiness Standards and state guidelines for HSD/HSE.
 - Introduce/develop together with the teachers/instructors a framework for teaching and learning.
 - Consider “what if” scenarios such as, “What if we made CTE classes one of a few alternative HSD options?”
 - Community/Stakeholder event sub-committee: We will table this for a later time. Ute will connect with the San Diego Regional Chamber of Commerce to arrange for participation in one of their regular meetings.
